You can easily reckon it yourself. A ton of coal, costing no more than common coal, giving ten per cent more heat, and infinitely more dependable, easily saves for the owner $10.00.

Compare the actual value received with the value you get from a ton of common coal and you will see at once who the most particular as well as the most economical people demand ideal coal and will accept no other.

BELIEVE IN FOOT WASHING

Primitive Baptists Near Aronville Hold Unique Service, and Are Observed by a Large Crowd.

It is possible that not all the readers of the Journal are aware that a few miles southeast of Aronville is a church of the Primitive Baptist order. It is not very strong in membership, but its adherents are tenacious of their belief and stick to the customs and ceremonies of the body religiously. Among other things the sect announces as its belief that if they practice immersion because they believe the Savior was immersed, they should also wash one another's feet at communion because there is no doubt but that He did the same thing and gave it as an example to be followed. From this city J. Allerton Palmer and J. W. Elliott, Jr., attended the services, which indeed were primitive, but none the less sincere. All needless ceremony was set aside. A bucket of water and a cup were brought in and the water passed, after which it was set in a convenient place and the preacher said it would be no annoyance to him if a thirty person came forward at any time and took a drink. The officiating ministers were Elder Willy of Rockhouse, Elder Dyer of Aronville, and a third whose name the gentlemen could not recall. The ministers took their places on a bench on the platform and the services were opened with singing. The unnamed preacher spoke briefly, offered prayer and called on Elder Willy to make the chief discourse of the morning. He took for his text Deut. xix:19, referring to the shoes and clothes which waxed not old in forty years. He made the application of the robe of Christ's righteousness and the shoes of the preparation of the gospel of peace. Elder Dyer gave a short talk, explaining the belief of the church, which is election, foreordination, immersion, foot washing and other tenets. An intermission was then announced, after which communion would follow, and it was not expected that any persons baptized by sprinkling would partake. After a short interval the audience was again assembled and the elements were passed to the members of the church and then the foot washing followed, the services not ending until 2 p. m.

Messrs. Palmer and Elliott, the preachers and Adam Coffman all enjoyed the splendid hospitality of William F. Henderson and had a superb dinner, which they thoroughly enjoyed, and a visit also with the reverend gentlemen. No stipulated salaries and paid the preachers, who worked the moving of the spirit and trust the people to pay them the same way. They also claim to speak at the moving of the spirit, not knowing when they arise what they are going to say to the congregation.

JUSTICE COURTS

Squire Henderson came near doing a mild office business Monday. H. R. Anderson and M. L. McDonald were each fined $3 and costs for an ordinary drunk.

Mike Ryan was twice fined $5 and costs for assault and battery; Gus Hammond and Mike Lawless, once each for the same offense.

Thomas Majors, Henry Williams and Gus Taylor, $5 and costs each for disturbing the peace.

William White and Henry Baskett were fined $5 and costs each for using abusive language.

Bob Clement was fined $25 and costs for keeping a disorderly house; and Frank Craven, William Orsby, George Coffman and Harry Daniels $10 and costs each for being inmates.

LOCUSTS RAVAGE THE WHEAT

Winamac, Ind., June 19.—The seven-year locust has appeared in the western part of this county and is doing a great deal of damage to the wheat fields, orchards and forest trees. According to their peculiar habit they come in the night to the surface of the ground from their subterranean caverns, where they have been maturing and hibernating for the last seventeen years. The ground beneath the trees is perforated like an immense colander with the holes from which they emerge.

Soon after emerging from the ground the locusts shed their underground overcoats, leaving the trunks of the trees studded with the dry and brittle garment of yellowish hue. Scientists say the eggs from which this brood was hatched were laid on the leaves of the trees seventeen years ago. The eggs remained where they were deposited three years, when the locusts were hatched and the newborn insect burrowed downward into the ground. Here, beside the roots of trees, the insect dwelt until this year, when they sallied forth in numberless quantities, driving the farmer almost to ruin in their ravages.

The locusts after flying about for a few days feeding on the vegetation attach themselves to the underside of the leaves

A freight car in "all extra west" position on the Washburn Monday morning, with a peculiar accident in the local yards. A brake beam was dragged and in some way caught on the end of the split rail at a switch. It takes more than one swallow to make a summer and more than one to quench a thirst in summer.

This is the season of "patriotic casualties," but antitoxin will cost just as much for the patriotic kind as any other.

Washington, July, Peace. It is to be hoped that all these elements will mix properly and that the outcome will be amicable.

Dr. Frank Bruner, of Chicago, declares that summer garden is an enemy to innocent girlhood and works an incalculable harm to young women.

Now that we are in the business we are willing to take on the settlement of the German Franco difficulties. Peace pacts are getting to be our specialty.

"I am just in love with ping pong," wrote the summer resort girl to her fond, but rather out-of-date, parents. Whereupon he wired, "Come home at once. We don't want any Chinamen in the family."

The relative value of the torpedo boat and the battleship still remains a puzzle unsolved by naval experts. Meanwhile all nations will continue to supply themselves with large quantities of each.

Gas Addicks is being held in contempt by a federal court. Congratulations, Delaware. The country at large will be glad to learn that there is some power to which the gas king and legislative hypnotizer bows the knee.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men (and nations) that, taken at its flood, leads on to fortune." Russia may be able to conclude an honorable peace now, but give Oyama another chance and Linevitch will be the Kirovskind.

Fashion has decreed that the smart set lease the country homes of impoverished English noblemen, and as usual Mrs. Potter Palmer is in the movement leading the van. Indications are that the season at Newport will be unusually short in consequence.

A Methodist clergyman in Chicago wants to dignify domestic service and give it the status of a profession. He declares: "Many a domestic, like Nauman's wife, is a wingless angel in the home." It would seem that most of them are anything but wingless from the length of time they stay in one place.

MAXIMO GOMEZ.

The hero of Cuban independence has at last joined the silent majority. He has been a unique character. Receiving his military training in the Spanish army, he became disgusted with the brutal methods employed in the treatment of Cuban prisoners and his sense of justice was so shocked that he surrendered his position as a cavalry officer and sought retirement in San Domingo. In the early seventies he was assisting in the fight for Cuban independence, but the movement was not successful and it was not until nearly twenty years later that he was instrumental in bringing about a peace that brought to Cuba her freedom. Gomez was not directly the cause of Cuban independence, but no man in all the island contributed in a more effective manner to the securing of independence than he. With a bare handful of soldiers or bushwhackers he harassed the armies of General Campos and General Weyler and disgraced both generals by his masterful retreats and maneuvers. His devotion to the Cuban cause and his persistence in season and out, and in spite of seemingly impossible barriers, endeared him in the hearts of all Cuban patriots and secured for him the admiration of the civilized world. Gomez could easily have been the first president of the Cuban republic and his refusal to accept the honor was an exhibition of greatness that reflected in true colors the character of the man.

Devotion to Cuba and the hand of patriots who followed his leadership through untold trials and defeats was never better exhibited than his eagerness and zeal for the Cuban pension fund. Gomez will ever live as the grand old man of Cuba and her citizens can point with just pride to his patriotism in both war and peace.

FLY PLAGUE.

The fly—the ordinary fly—the busy, pesky, insolent, house fly which is so omnipresent with its indefatigable efforts to force all other living beings off the earth, and this same little, insignificant, mischievous insect that seems to think it is monarch of all that it surveys, but which in fact is nothing more nor less than a plague, demand attention because of the evil things of which it is capable. The unwelcome announcement is made that the United States will this year be visited by countless millions of these pests, and following this announcement comes opinions from other authorities who tell what a dangerous pest the fly is. Typhoid, malaria, yellow fever, and many dread ills are caused by the fly family, of which the wicked mosquitoes form a branch. The fly does his deadliest work in spreading contagious diseases. When he is unusually plentiful, typhoid becomes a fearful scourge.

There are flies of many kinds, but the common house fly is the most dangerous of all. He goes out to the hospital and angles his way into sick rooms to gather germs and carry them away to infect the food of healthy people. He seems to take a malicious delight in spreading infection in this way. Instead of being grateful to the kind folk who give him a living by permitting him, at least against their will, to eat in their kitchens, he is vicious enough to poison them and put the microbes of a hundred diseases upon the food they eat.

Because of his danger as a disseminator of disease, the fly is to be guarded against. He is as much to be dreaded as the mosquito.

The conclusions to be drawn from the facts submitted by scientists who have studied the scope of the fly's ravages and mendacity are somewhat startling, and they show conclusively that the fly and the mosquito should be guarded against, not only as a means of enhancing the happiness of the individual, but of promoting the public health.

WEALTH OF NATIONS.

A writer in the New York Sun says: "In 1905 the national wealth of the United States was relatively estimated at $100,000,000,000. That is, it was $100,000,000,000 more than that of Great Britain and $62,000,000,000 greater than that of France, and only $1,000,000,000 less than the wealth of Russia and Great Britain combined. It is $30,000,000,000 more than the wealth of Germany, $28,000,000,000 more than that of Russia and $78,000,000,000 above Austria-Hungary." It is $7,000,000,000 more than the combined wealth of Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary, and $48,000,000,000 more than that of Italy, Spain, Belgium and all the rest of Europe, outside of the five countries already first named. The proof of these statements is in the following tabulation:

	United States	Great Britain	France	Germany	Russia	Austria-Hungary	Italy	Spain	Belgium	Rest of Europe
	$100,000,000,000	50,000,000,000	48,000,000,000	40,000,000,000	32,000,000,000	22,000,000,000	15,000,000,000	11,000,000,000	10,000,000,000	21,000,000,000

	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita	Per Capita
United States	$100,000,000	50,000,000	48,000,000	40,000,000	32,000,000	22,000,000	15,000,000	11,000,000	10,000,000	21,000,000

There is no place for Americans to get in a grumble on that showing. Of all the countries in the world the commonwealth of Australia makes the worst showing. Her public debt is $1,047,000,000, with a per capita of $278 and a continuingly decreasing population. Careful perusal of the long list of public debts shows that the United States has the smallest per capita of public debt. Mexico has a public debt of $198,000,000, with a per capita of $13. Canada's debt is heavy for so sparse a population, considering the size of the dominion. The debt is $355,000,000 and the per capita $50. Argentina is also heavily laden, $505,000,000 and $100 per capita. A few others are:

	Debt	Capita
Netherlands	$486,000,000	$38.00
Greece	168,000,000	63.00
Egypt	500,000,000	53.00
Belgium	504,000,000	81.00
Turkey	726,000,000	39.00

PASSENGERS WERE

PANIC STRICKEN

Excursionists on Board Steamer of City of Peoria Spent Bad Quarter of an Hour—Many Women Fainted—No Damage Resulted

Panic was imminent on the steamer City of Peoria and barge Pearl Sunday, when the crowd who had taken advantage of the Cigar makers' railroad and steamboat excursion to the Copperas creek locks north of Havana, was thrown into confusion by the foundering of the steamer and barge among some trees in the midst of a terrific storm of wind and rain. The danger was only apparent, however, and was over in the space of about fifteen minutes. The way it happened was this:

The excursion was returning to Havana from the Copperas creek locks and had proceeded down the river about two and one-half miles from a sudden and terrific windstorm arose, accompanied by a driving rain, which was broken into such a mist that the pilot was unable to clearly see his way. The engines were consequently shut down and the boat allowed to drift to the east bank of the river, where it was the intention of the crew to anchor to a tree until the storm cleared away. The boat struck the trees along the shore with greater force than was expected and the masts which held the barge were snapped on one side. Chairs were blown from the upper deck into the water and the air was so frightful that many of the excursionists lost their heads and a number of women fainted. The anchorage to a tree was successfully made and the knot had scarcely been tied before the sky began to clear and the storm was accomplished without incident.

About 350 people participated in the excursion which left here in a special train of six coaches following the regular Sunday morning passenger. The train arrived at Havana in good time, but there a long wait was experienced, as the excursion steamer was about three hours behind time, not leaving until about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The pleasures of the river trip outweighed the inconvenience experienced, and the excursion was as a whole a very delightful one. The train, returning, arrived in this city about 9:45 o'clock Sunday evening.

Edward R. Weeks is a humorist living at Binghamton, N. Y. A fellow owed him several hundred dollars which he failed to collect. One night Weeks had a dream, a beautiful dream which gave him an inspiration. He took up his pen and delved out some verses which not only incited Mr. Weeks' debtor to pay the bill in full, but the debtor was so well pleased that he has resumed business relations with Mr. Weeks, who is making money by the resumption. Mr. Weeks' poem follows:

BEETHOVEN CLUB

Musical Organization at Roodhouse Is Doing Good Work—Mrs. E. C. Carpenter the Moving Spirit.

The Beethoven club recently organized in Roodhouse by Mrs. E. C. Carpenter, formerly Miss Lillian Gray, of this city, has been doing excellent work since its organization, and recently gave an excellent recital at the Baptist church in that city which was largely attended and very favorably commented upon. Concerning the work of Mrs. Carpenter, the Roodhouse Record says:

"The parts rendered by Mrs. Carpenter were especially fine. She is a splendid musician and never fails to please her audience. As an organizer she has few equals and no superiors. To her is due the credit of organizing the Beethoven club, and to the inspiration that she has given it has due the success with which it has met, and its popularity among the most refined and cultured of our citizens. No one person has ever been at the head of more public entertainments in Roodhouse than Mrs. Carpenter and every one has been attended with success and have been thoroughly enjoyed by those who have attended them. We have yet to hear the first criticism of her management or the part she has taken in any of them."

DEATH RECORD

CRAIG.

Alfred A. Craig entered into rest Monday afternoon at 1:50 o'clock at our Saviors hospital, death resulting from a complication of diseases. He had been in poor health for a number of years, but his latest illness dated from the day of the Illinois college commencement. On that day, while attending the exercises, he was taken with a violent chill and grew steadily worse. A consultation of his physicians was held and it was decided that an operation was the only hope. The operation was successfully performed Sunday morning and was entirely successful, as the patient rallied nicely and was conscious up to the last few minutes before the end came. The conditions found upon operation justified the worst fears of the physicians and the progress of the disease was too great for the relief hoped for.

Mr. Craig was one of the well known residents of this county. Born within its borders, southeast of this city, fifty-five years ago, he spent his whole life in this vicinity, where he ever bore an excellent reputation for honesty and strict integrity. He was engaged in business in Woodson for thirty years, removing to this city about five years ago. After his removal to this city he was employed at Central hospital for almost two years as a bookkeeper.

Mr. Craig leaves to mourn his loss his wife and two children, Leon and Ethel. The family feels very grateful to the physicians for the earnest effort made to save the life of their loved one, and especially to the sisters at Our Saviors hospital for their untiring vigilance and watchful care. The funeral will be held at State Street Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. More definite announcement will be made later.

Chris Zimmerman received word 31. Fare $29.

Monday of the death of his cousin, Mrs. Lizzie Light, of Streator, Ill. Mr. Zimmerman expected to depart last evening for Streator to attend the funeral, which will be held this morning at 9 o'clock.

FUNERALS

VANWINKLE.

The funeral of the late Simeon VanWinkle, of Franklin, was largely attended Sunday afternoon, as many people desired to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of a good man. It was under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity and the leader in the ceremonies of the order was District Deputy Grand Master D. B. Hutchinson of this city. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Geo. Hart, after which a long procession prepared to follow the remains to their last resting place in the cemetery. N. Z. Reinbach was marshal of the day and the bearers were: John Pike, Henry Duncan, George Wain, Alex Wright, H. O. Keplinger, William Rees, William Hill and A. B. Daniels. At the grave the ritual of the Masonic order was carried out under the leadership of Brother Hutchinson.

SUCCESSFUL

LAWN FETE

Given Monday Evening on Academy Lawn Under Auspices Men's League of Christ. 11th Church - Large Crowd.

The most successful lawn fete and band concert of the season was given Monday evening on the academy lawn by the Men's League of the Christian church. The spacious lawn and street was crowded with people throughout the evening, while Jeffries' Concert band delighted the crowd with their usual artistic music. The musical program was especially strong and well selected. The grounds were tastefully decorated with electric lights and national colors. The members of the league acted as waiters and served the people quickly and efficiently. So great was the crowd that the entire stock of ice cream and cake was sold out early in the evening and a second supply had to be secured on short notice. The proceeds are to be given to the furnishing fund of the new Christian church, as part payment on a pledge of $800. A large part of the sum was realized. A great deal of credit for the remarkable success of the affair is due to Joy Green, president of the league.
